

Simon Herron is a percussionist and timpanist. He is studying at the Zurich University of the Arts with Benjamin Forster and Klaus Schwärzler. Simon grew up in the United States and in Germany. His undergraduate studies were with Markus Rhoten and Daniel Druckman at the Juilliard School. Simon has performed with orchestras in the United States, Asia, South America, and across Europe.

In addition to performing, Simon enjoys teaching music theory and ear training.